The Stock Market Game™ is a trademarked program of the SIFMA Foundation for Investor Education.

What is The Stock Market Game?

- An Online simulation in which student teams invest a hypothetical $100,000 in stocks, mutual funds and bonds
- A competition between grade 4-12 student teams by geographical region and grade level
- A teacher resource center of lessons, activities and assessments, searchable by curriculum area, grade level and/or learning standard

Here's how it works...

With Stock Market Game™ program (SMG) you teach core competencies, critical thinking skills and teamwork in one fascinating program that engages your students and meets your state's standards.

Simple, focused lesson plans provide you with core concepts, enrichment activities, and vocabulary that make the SMG easy to teach. SMG curriculum is age-appropriate for elementary, middle and high school.

Proven Fun Methods

Whether you are a knowledgeable investor or have never bought a stock, SMG curriculum materials provide you with all of the resources and information you need to teach this program like an expert. The online Teacher Support Center gives you clear, well-organized information and ideas that will help you bring the SMG into your classroom.

And your students will have so much fun learning about companies and capital markets they won't realize how much math, social studies, language arts, and economics knowledge they're absorbing along the way. Plus they'll learn about saving and investing – two critically important life skills. Long time users of SMG report the program actually boosts attendance and reduces dropout rates.
